

Private Equity Holding AG

Net Asset Value as of October 31, 2018

Monthly Development

As of October 31, 2018, the Net Asset Value (NAV) per share of Private Equity Holding AG stood at EUR 84.09 (CHF 95.89), representing a 1.7% decrease in EUR and 1.2% in CHF, respectively.

As expected, PEH's portfolio performance became more volatile following the IPO of its largest position, Aston Martin Lagonda on October 3. Aston and many other listed investments held by the underlying portfolio funds decreased in value in October, a month that was challenging for stocks. However, losses were partly offset by positive currency developments.

The biggest cash distributions came from EagleTree Partners III distributing proceeds from the sale of branded bath accessories provider Paris Presents and from Avista Capital Partners III on the sale of Telular Corporation, an Internet-of-Things solutions provider.

The number of outstanding shares used for calculation of the Net Asset Value per share amounted to 2,606,341 as of October 31, 2018 (September 30, 2018: 2,606,341). The calculations are prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and pursuant to the guidelines of Invest Europe (formerly known as the European Venture Capital Association). The valuations of the fund investments are based on the most recent reported net asset values (NAVs) of the funds. In estimating the fair value of unquoted direct investments, Private Equity Holding AG considers the most appropriate market valuation techniques. The fair value of listed direct investments is the market value. The NAV of Private Equity Holding AG is calculated at the end of each month under a going concern assumption and usually published within six trading days after the cut-off date. The different reporting cut-off dates of the individual companies and funds in which participations are held can lead to short-term distortions and cause discrepancies between the published NAV and the actual total value of Private Equity Holding AG's net assets.
